WEDnetPA Training Funding Information

Pennsylvania is using its resources to invest in its workers, making sure they have the skills needed to compete in the global economy. Pennsylvania offers qualified employers the opportunity to train new and existing associates with resources available through WEDnetPA. Many of MAEA's training programs are potentially eligible under this program. For additional information and the application process, please visit their website at www.wednetpa.com

MAEA is an HR Certification Institute Approved Provider

The HR Certification Institute has designated the Northeast Pennsylvania Manufactures and Employers Association (MAEA) as an approved provider of continuing education for certified professionals. The benefit of this development is individuals with a PHR/SPHR certification can earn credit towards maintaining their certification when they attend HR Certification Institute approved Northeast Pennsylvania Manufactures and Employers Association programs. Having these pre-approved continuing education courses eliminates the guesswork for recertification candidates when planning their professional development activities.

“HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI's eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.”

HR Certification Institute is the leading independent, internationally recognized certifying body for the HR profession. Established in 1976, the HR Certification Institute awards certifications to professionals who meet minimum eligibility standards and pass a rigorous examination. HR Certification Institute testing requires professionals to demonstrate their expertise in both the underlying principles of HR practice and the real-world application of those principles. To remain certified, individuals must fulfill continuing education requirements or demonstrate their current knowledge of the profession through retesting. The HR Certification Institute is an affiliate of the Society for Human Resource Management. For more information about certification or recertification, please visit the HRCI website at www.hrci.org.

Approved Provider Status

HR Certification Institute Approved Providers undergo a thorough application and review process and submit to HRCI extensive information about their organizations' continuing education programs. By being elevated to Approved Provider status, MAEA may determine and publish PHR, SPHR and GPHR recertification credit hours using the established criteria. The HR Certification Institute believes pre-approved events meet the highest standards in the continuing education industry. Look for the HR Certification Institute Approved Provider seal throughout this training catalog for programs approved for recertification credit hours.

MAEA is a SHRM Approved Provider

MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.

SHRM, the Society for Human Resource Management, creates better workplaces where employers and associates thrive together. As the voice of all things work, workers and the workplace, SHRM is the foremost expert, convener and thought leader on issues impacting today's evolving workplaces. SHRM has established the SHRM Recertification Provider Program to give organizations that offer education, training and/or other HR-related Competency and Knowledge programming the opportunity to award PDCs, without preapproval by SHRM. Look for the SHRM Approved Provider seal throughout this training catalog for programs approved for recertification credit hours.

CUSTOMIZED & ON-SITE TRAINING

MAEA provides high-quality customized training for companies across the region. Our instructors will assist you in designing training or development programs to meet your organization's unique needs, including scheduling and location requirements. The training can be delivered on-site at your facility, off-site at our training rooms (Pottsville or Hazleton) or virtually by Zoom.

Benefits Include:

- Your company's unique needs are met: We get to know your organization and learn what specific goals you want to achieve in the training. Your associates receive information and skills to assist them in dealing with the real issues they face in their own day-to-day work environment.
- Flexibility and Convenience: The course content, date, time, and location will be established to meet the needs of your workforce.
- Team Interaction: Your associates are trained together. Everyone receives the same message at the same time, and the MAEA instructor encouraged participation and interaction to develop a stronger team with the company.

CONSULTING

MAEA has a team of consultants who specialize in helping companies resolve their most urgent problems, issues, or projects. Our experienced consultants will conduct an on-site evaluation and provide proposed solutions. MAEA will assist in the implementation process by conducting training for your staff.

They work across a wide range of roles and areas of expertise including:

- Process Improvement
- Human Resources
- Safety
- Information Technology
- Data Management and Development
- Communication

COACHING

MAEA offers coaching, mentoring and personalized one-on-one support to help your employees develop their interpersonal skills, overcome challenges, and achieve their professional goals.

General Course Information

BACKGROUND

The courses offered by MAEA are focused on business and industry, with content developed by external practitioners and instructors having extensive real-world experience. MAEA instructors are carefully chosen and consist of individuals who are subject matter experts and skilled communicators. Course maintenance is an ongoing priority for the MAEA, with input sought regularly from cooperating organizations, industry contacts, and periodic focus groups of member company representatives.

COURSE ENVIRONMENT

All sessions are conducted in an informal setting that is conducive to learning and to the open exchange of ideas among participants. Interactive exercises are frequently used as part of the instructional method, along with a variety of audio/visual aids, participant manuals, and stimulating group discussions. There are no entrance or completion examinations; participants are encouraged to demonstrate the knowledge acquired through open discussion with peers and during the course sessions.

ATTENDANCE

All courses are available for individual self-improvement, regardless of Certificate Series. Because of the progressive structure of the courses, attendance is expected at all sessions. Arrangements should be made with the instructors to address those situations where a specific session cannot be attended.

CANCELLATION POLICY

The cancellation deadline is seven business days prior to the course. Cancellations made after this deadline will be charged the full price. Substitutions may be made at any time prior to the start of the class at no charge. No shows will be billed the full price.

INCLEMENT WEATHER

Due to the number of people attending courses, it may not be practical to provide individual notifications in the event of class cancellations due to inclement weather. Whenever there is a doubt, call the Manufacturers and Employers Association office at 570-622-0992. Cancellations and rescheduling information will be provided via a recorded message.

CERTIFICATIONS

MAEA offers several certification series, which are endorsed by the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association (PMA), and the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM).

SUPERVISORY DEVELOPMENT LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATE SERIES

MAEA's supervisory training programs have been providing effective leadership training for participants to allow them to handle the day-to-day challenges faced by supervisors and leaders in all types of environments. This is MAEA's most popular training program. The courses are realistic, relevant, hands-on and include real life examples and classroom exercises drawn from a variety of backgrounds. Time is allotted to discuss specific leadership issues facing each class participant in today's current business environment.

Courses Required to Receive a Master Certificate

Participants who attend the following four components of the series will receive certificates of completion from the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association (PMA), and the Northeast Pennsylvania Manufacturers & Employers Association.

Classes in this series include:

- Supervisor Leadership Development Part I
- Supervisor Leadership Development Part II
- Effective Communications & Interpersonal Relations
- Psychology in the Workplace

Supervisory Development Leadership Certificate Series Benefits

People often become leaders because they did a great job in their hourly positions. There is often little or no preparation for this increase in responsibilities and new leaders are often lacking in the interpersonal skills required to be successful in today's ever-changing and dynamic business environment. In this fun, fast-paced and highly interactive program, participants learn strategies they can use to become great leaders.

Supervisor Leadership Part I (2 Day Training)

Thriving in a leadership role requires a specific set of skills. Leaders must be able to withstand the pressure from the top and the demands coming up from their associates. During this course, participants will explore the foundational aspects of being a good leader and creating a positive and effective work environment. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 12 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 12 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

The Importance of Documentation

Today’s work environment is faced with many challenges, one of the primary challenges all organizations face is finding and keeping good employees. To add to this challenge, all employees have challenges within their own lives, sometimes those issues occur in the work environment. This training is designed to help you get to the root of the problem and find a resolution when issues arise, thus salvaging the employee/employer relationship, and reducing turnover. However, these attempts are not always successful, and the need for documentation is imperative! This training will focus on proper documentation and developing your documentation skills while approaching issues from a “coaching” perspective. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.”

“HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 3 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Interviewing Successfully

Interviewing potential employment candidates and selecting the best candidate for a position is an essential part of any business. Errors in this process can lead to lost revenue (2.5 times the annual salary of the position), disruption of workflow, and potential litigation. Interviewing Successfully will enable you to master this process by teaching you how to really read a resume (notice “red flags” on the resume as well as during the interview process), develop legally sound and behaviorally oriented questions, analyze and assess the knowledge, skills and ability levels of each applicant (thus allowing you to select the best candidate for the position), and recognize and avoid the “pitfalls” on the interview process. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCL.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI's eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 3 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Course content:

- Establish a selection strategy
- Prepare for the interview
- Conduct an interview
- Review labor and employment laws and Learn how they affect the employment process
- Understand legal versus illegal questions
- Evaluate and select the right candidate

Time: 9 am – 4 pm (Lunch is included)

Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Harassment Training

This training will cover the fundamentals and skills to support an employer's diversity, equity, inclusion, and harassment programs in the workplace. Participants will become more skilled at navigating cultural and other differences between individuals in the workplace. By improving the quality of personal interactions among people with diverse identities, conflict will be reduced and make the workplace more efficient. This training will improve recognition of bias, stereotypes, and discrimination, while providing strategies to halt those practices in favor of a more impartial and inclusive environment for coworkers, clients, and the public. In addition, it is essential that you know how to recognize potential sexual harassment in the workplace and how to respond and prevent it. This training will help you identify and address this behavior and will assist you in learning how to be able to raise a defense and avoid punitive damages in the event of a sexual harassment lawsuit. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCL.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI's eight credentials, including SPHR® and

HUMAN PERFORMANCE IMPROVEMENT TRAININGS

Modifying Behavior and Performance

Analyzing and modifying behavior in the workplace is an ongoing and challenging situation in every organization. Being able to utilize a systematic strategy that will identify human performance gaps and solutions is useful to every leader. Analyzing why performance is not at the level where it needs to be is the first step in applying corrective action. There are many reasons why an associate may not be performing at an acceptable level. Identifying the root cause as to why this behavior is occurring is the first step in correcting. This training will review a results-based process to identify areas of opportunity and implement effective solutions based on the root cause of the problem. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute’s® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Leading Teams for Performance Improvement

The success of teams in an organization begins with an effective leader, especially during the earlier stages of team development. Without an effective leader, it is unlikely the team will move forward and progress into a healthy performing team or into a high-performance team. The performance of an organization is directly linked to the effectiveness of its teams. The initial stages of team development and leadership set the stage for success and completion of goals and objectives. PERSONAL & ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT TRAININGS

Conflict Management Strategies

When working with a team of coworkers with different backgrounds, skill sets and experiences, it is highly likely that conflict is unavoidable. Differences in ideas or opinions occur frequently in the workplace. Conflict often leads to negative outcomes and damaged relationships. However, if managed correctly, conflict can be positive and lead to more innovative solutions and better communications. Understanding the role, you play in conflict patterns will lead to you responding more constructively when it arises. Ineffective conflict management is time-consuming, costly, and extremely inefficient for any organization. This training will focus on skills to recognize and manage conflict in an efficient strategic manner that can lead to better communication within the organization. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute’s® (www.HRCL.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Intergenerational Collaboration in the Workplace

Understanding communication styles and workplace preferences between various generations sharing a common workplace is an essential skill required for today’s leaders. Each generation looks at work very differently, and each has an equally different preference in regard to communication style. As a leader, it is critical to learn how to utilize the capabilities of all generations and engage them for optimal motivation and performance. During this training you will learn some common differences between traditionalists, boomers, Gen X, Millennials, Gen Z, and Gen Alpha while exploring ways to effectively reach and work with them. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute’s® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®, PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

The Key to Retaining and Engaging Talent

Human Resource and staffing experts say the onboarding process for new hires at any organization should be a strategic process to ensure high retention. However, many company approach onboarding (what used to be known as new hire orientation) as something that ends when all the paperwork is signed, and the associates first day is complete. The reality is, he/she is just getting started! The onboarding process is a systematic and comprehensive approach to integrating a new associate with a company, as well as providing a new associate with the tools and information they need to become a productive member of the team. How employers handle this process is crucial to the success of a new employee. This training will look at onboarding, s, and ideas for creating a fun and engaging onboarding process. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI's eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

The Fundamentals of Workforce Planning & Talent Acquisition

In the 21st century the one constant we can always count on is CHANGE! This is true in every facet of our lives in the organizational world. While today's organizations need to plan for today, to survive, it is even more vital that we are simultaneously planning for tomorrow! This training will outline the process necessary to anticipate the future direction of your organization; conduct a SWOT analysis; analyze the current workforce in terms of knowledge, skills, and abilities; analyze the necessary skill sets for your future workforce; and conduct a gap analysis between the two, thus providing a roadmap to build for the future.

Previously: Human Resource professionals are the masters of people science and must be able to apply this mastery in performing the many functional duties of Human Resources. In this session, human resource professionals will enhance the depth of their overall talent management capabilities. We will cover workforce planning and employment activities including conducting a job analysis to generate information about job tasks to be performed; documenting the knowledge and skill people must possess to do the job tasks; creating a job description; source, recruit and select and develop the right people. Additionally, this session will address associate engagement. Associates who fit your employment brand will stay with your organization and they create a happier, more productive, engaged workforce. Studies show organizations who have a more engaged workforce experience improved customer satisfaction, productivity, and overall financial success.

MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.”

Human Resources as a Strategic Business Partner

In this session, Human Resource Professionals will gain an essential understanding of the concept of being a “strategic business partner”. Being a “strategic business partner” requires aligning the Human Resource philosophy and programs with the organization's philosophy, strategic plans, and goals in order to bring value to the organization. In addition, HR Professionals must know and understand “the business of the business” (business acumen), and possess economic and financial acumen, to have a seat at the table. This training will provide an outline for building business and financial acumen, and for cascading organizational goals through the organization to each individual employee using Human Resource programs such as talent acquisition, performance management, compensation, benefits, as well as employee and leadership development. In addition, we will review how these processes must be driven by metrics which provide objective measurements showing Human Resources contribution to the Company’s bottom line. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCL.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Unemployment Compensation Separation Issues/Relief from Charges/Suitable Work

This class will review the following topics:

- Separation Issues - Many employers and claimants have difficulty understanding the process UC uses to determine an associate's eligibility for benefits after voluntarily leaving or being discharged from a job. This presentation explains how the service center discovers if the person quit or was discharged, the fact-finding process, burden of proof, and the factors that are considered when making a determination and appeal rights.
- Relief from Charges - Employers are concerned about controlling their Unemployment Compensation costs. One of the ways to control these costs is to file for relief from charges. This presentation explains what relief from charges is, which employers are eligible to file for it, how the employers are notified that their account may be charged, how to file for relief from charges, how separation issues affect the employer's eligibility for relief, and appeal rights.
- Suitable Work - The Unemployment Compensation Service Center is often contacted about what to do when a person refuses work. This presentation explains the application of Section 402(a) of the PA UC Law (Refusal of Suitable Work). Discussion includes the employer's responsibilities regarding notification a job offer has been made to both the Claimant and the service center, the factors used in suitable work determinations and appeal rights.

Creating Dynamic Presentations Utilizing PowerPoint

Everyone at some point in their career can relate to sitting in a conference room and listening to someone provide a boring, droning presentation made even worse with an equally boring, dull, generic presentation. Back when PowerPoint was first introduced, presentations felt fresh and high tech with a visual element that was missing with overhead projectors. Now nearly thirty-five years later, simple PowerPoint presentations do not tend to capture the audience's attention nor provide the emphasis they once did for someone's intended message. This training will look at how presenters can provide a more up-to-date, dynamic, and visually appealing experience for their audiences. Prerequisite is to be familiar with utilizing PowerPoint.

Course Content:

- Latest in template options and sources
- Avoiding clutter and utilizing white space
- Branding using logos and custom color schemes
- Utilizing bold design elements besides photos
- Animation – how to create and sources
- Transitions to emphasis but not distract
- Using multiple layers on the same slide
- Embedding compelling images and videos for seamless presentations

Enhance Productivity – Work Smarter Not Harder

If you were to survey associates, most would say the one thing they wish they had more of in a day is time. However, most would find if they were provided additional time, they would still want or need additional time. This training will focus on the adage “work smarter, not harder”. We will explore time management and organizational techniques to eliminate wasted time while maximizing productivity.

Course Content:

- Truly understanding how you spend your available time
- Prioritizing tasks to maximize results
- Strategies for delegating tasks
- Identifying and minimizing/eliminating distractions and interruptions
- Using technology to improve work output
- Training will include group activities

5-S Including Safety –(6 S)

This course is designed for participants to learn how the Lean Manufacturing tool of 5-S leads to pride in the workplace while sustaining the improvements for cleanliness, organization, and most importantly safety. The 5-S's are about doing the basics but always thinking about how things affect a safe work environment. They provide a foundation on which to build other quality activities. With a tidy, disciplined housekeeping environment, you can see many of the things which need further attention. Companies that live in chaos, no matter how fashionable it these days is, spend a lot of time on unproductive activities. Implementing the 5-S's requires full cooperation of all involved, not just the safety department. This is an amazingly powerful activity. When people realize these simple activities have such power, and that by implementing them well, the workplace becomes a more pleasant and safe place to work. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. "This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®." Course Content:

- Definition of 5-S
- Importance of implementing 5-S
- Definition of 6S adding safety
- The implementation steps
- Tools and techniques for implementation
- Red tagging strategies
- The keys to long-term 5-S success
- Applications of the visual factory
- Typical examples of visual management

SMED

SMED (Single Minute Exchange of Dies) Set-up or changeover reduction has been an important element of lean thinking for several years. This class explores some of the ideas behind SMED and what tools are available for implementation. Other areas of setup time reduction will also be discussed. This class also explores ideas regarding cellular manufacturing, production workstations and equipment arrangements. Focus will be on equipment layout/sequence that support a smooth flow of materials and components through the production process with minimal transport or delay. Implementation of this lean method often represents the first major shift in production activity, and it is the key enabler of increased production velocity and flexibility, as well as the reduction of capital requirements.

Root Cause Analysis

Root Cause Analysis is used to solve process problems or to determine why something happened. The problem can be small (hole size of machined part is out of round) or large (what caused the tile to fall off the space shuttle)! In either case, you try to determine why something happened so corrective action can be implemented, and steps taken to prevent it from happening again. Engineers from the tile manufacturer, NASA engineers, astronauts, and Federal government inspectors all must agree on the root cause. Under these circumstances, special tools are required such as management and planning tools. These are the principles covered in the one-day class for Root Cause Analysis. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. MAINTENANCE CERTIFICATE SERIES

For years, employers have emphasized the pressing need for comprehensive maintenance training programs to bridge the skill gap in our industry. In response to this demand MAEA has developed a tailored series of training courses designed to equip the workforce with the knowledge and skills request to succeed in the field of maintenance.

Classes in this series include:

- Electrical Fundamentals
- Navigating the National Electric Code
- Transformers, Motors, and Controls
- Industrial Control Panels

Electrical Fundamentals

This course will start at the component level with resistors, inductors, and capacitors and then develop DC and AC electrical systems commonly found in the workplace. There will be some discussion on magnetism and electromagnetism as it provides the foundation for motors and transformers. Ohm's Law will be discussed as it relates to basic electrical calculations.

Course Content:

- DC Electrical Systems – batteries and power supplies
- AC Electrical Systems - AC sine-wave, frequency, RMS values, 1PH, and 3PH
- Electrical components — resistors, inductors, capacitors
- Magnetism
- Electromagnetism
- Ohm's Law
- Electrical Calculations

Dates: January 17
August 2

Location: 250 One Norwegian Plaza, Pottsville, PA 17901

Location: 103 Rotary Drive, Suite 4A, West Hazleton, PA 18202

Cost: $395/member or $790/Non-Member

Time: 9 am – 4 pm (Lunch is included)

Navigating the National Electrical Code

Did you ever notice how difficult it sometime is to find something in a code or standard? This course will introduce the National Electrical Code as it relates to installation and wiring methods in your facility. It will show you how to quickly locate information by using the "Chapter-Article-Section" approach.

Course Content:

- History of the National Electrical Code NEC
- NRTL's (nationally recognized testing laboratories) UL and CSA: the concept of listing and labeling products
- 90.4 and the importance of the AHJ (authority having jurisdiction)
- Article 100 Definitions
- Chapter, Article, Section how to zone in on information
- Organizational Structure of the NEC
- Mandatory and Permissive Rules

Transformers, Motors, and Controls

Transformers and motors are common pieces of electrical equipment in your facility, but how do they work? This course will discuss magnetism and electromagnetism to gain an understanding of how transformers and motors operate. We will also analyze the AC electrical system to reinforce concepts like "induced voltage" and "rotating magnetic" field in a practical way. Plus, we will introduce the Ladder Diagram as it relates to motor control circuits.

Course Content:

- Magnetism and Electromagnetism
- Inductors and inductive reactance as a function of frequency
- AC electrical systems
- Analysis of 1PH and 3PH Transformer Connections (isolation, auto transformer, wye, delta)
- Squirrel Cage Induction Motor
- Starting techniques for 1PH Motors (capacitor start, split-phase)
- Ladder diagrams

Industrial Control Panels: The Basics

This comprehensive course provides participants with a solid understanding of industrial control panels. Participants will explore the three main concepts of industrial control panels: power circuit components (motor controllers, overload relays, fused disconnect switches, and circuit breakers), control circuit components (push buttons, pilot lights, selector switches, timers, and control relays), and the combination of power and control circuit components. The course covers relevant codes and standards, focusing on the National Electrical Code (NEC) requirements for overcurrent protection, disconnecting means, and grounding and bonding. Through hands-on exercises and interactive discussions, participants will gain practical knowledge of basic input and output devices, wiring techniques, and regulatory compliance.

ELECTRONICS CERTIFICATE SERIES

Welcome to the exciting world of Electronics! In this course, we embark on a journey through the fundamental principles that power the technological wonders shaping our modern lives.

Introduction to Electronics

This course will look at the history of the electronics age from the very first crystal radio detector, through the vacuum tube era, and then the development of solid-state devices currently in use today. It will develop the principles of rectifier circuits, amplifier circuits, and oscillator circuits first using vacuum tubes, and then analyze using solid state devices. Some math is involved but we will focus on a more practical approach to electronic circuits and their operational characteristics.

Course Content:

- History of electronics
- Vacuum tubes – A Nostalgic look back at where it all started
- Semi-conductor theory – p type and n type materials
- The diode
- The Bipolar Junction Transistor
- The Field Effect Transistor
- Power Supplies, amplifiers, oscillators

Dates: January 10

Location: 250 One Norwegian Plaza, Pottsville, PA 17901

June 17

Location: 103 Rotary Drive, Suite 4A, West Hazleton, PA 18202

Cost: $395/member or $790/Non-Member

Time: 9 am – 3 pm (Lunch is included)

Electronics for Industrial Technicians

A review of semiconductor materials and device physics. Analyze the p-n junction and see how a diode and transistor operate. Introduce basic digital logic and explain the significance of relays, SCR's, and Triacs in circuitry. Discuss the oscilloscope, signal generator, and digital multi-meter and demonstrate in class the use of these pieces of test equipment.

Course Content:

- Use of test instruments — oscilloscope, signal generator, digital multimeter
- Semiconductor materials
- The p-n junction
- The light emitting diode
- Single phase rectifier circuits
- Transistor switches and amplifiers
- Basic digital logic
- Relays, SCR's, and Triacs
- Voltage regulators

Dates: March 6Location: 250 One Norwegian Plaza, Pottsville, PA 17901

This course will look at the history of the computer age along its various stages of development. Introduce the decimal and binary numbering systems and evaluate their roles in digital logic. Review vacuum tube and solid-state electronics as they lead to the development of logic gates. Analyze basic logic operators: and, or, and not functions. Discuss the development of the local area network and review basic network topology.

Course Content:

- History of Computers
- Decimal and binary numbering systems
- Digital versus analog
- Vacuum tube basics
- Bipolar junction transistor basics
- Digital logic — and, or not operations
- Block diagram of a computer
- Ethernet and development of the local area network
- Network topology

This program is designed for all personnel who work on, around, or near any type of electrically energized equipment. Electrical hazards, proper electrical work practices and procedures, and the safe installation of electrical equipment will be discussed. You will be introduced to the rules and regulations as required by the OSHA Electrical Safety Related Work Practices Standard 1910.331-1910.335. You will also learn how the NFPA 70E requirements work in conjunction with the OSHA requirements. Designed to keep workers safe and up to date, this program provides workers with lifesaving information. It is perfect for those who need refresher training or those who have had little exposure to proper work practices. The course will also provide the participant with an in-depth understanding of the current ARC Flash safety requirements listed in NFPA 70E, OSHA, IEEE 1584 and NIOSH. A complete presentation of ARC Flash standards and hazards will be provided along with examples and student exercises.

Course Content:

- NFPA 70E applicable rules for ARC flash
- Safe electrical work practices
- ARC Flash protection boundaries
- Personal protective equipment and selection criteria
- ARC Flash approach boundary terms
- Applicable regulatory standards
- ARC Flash hazard analysis and employer responsibilities
- ARC Flash work permits - working on live equipment
- Final written exam

Hands on Practice: Throughout the course, students will have the opportunity to practice the skills learned through class interaction and observational exercises. The interactive exercises focus on awareness, safe work practices, maintenance requirements boundaries and regulations learned during class.

OSHA 10-Hour Voluntary Compliance Course for General Industry

This 2-day course provides an overview of OSHA and key regulations required for all workplaces in complying with the OSHA regulations for General Industry and is facilitated by an OSHA authorized facilitator using OSHA approved material. The class will review key aspects of the regulations and provide implementation and compliance strategies. Each participant who successfully completes the required hours will receive an OSHA issued completion card.

Course Content:

- Introduction to OSHA
- Walking and working surfaces
- Electrical Safety
- Machine Guarding
- Hazard Communication
- Personal protective equipment
- Exit Routes, Emergency Action Plans
- Fire Prevention Plans and Fire Protection
- Material handling
- Hazardous Materials – Flammables and Combustibles
- Fall Protection
- Confined Spaces

Dates: August 16 and 23

Location: 250 One Norwegian Plaza, Pottsville, PA 17901

Cost: $438/member or $876/Non-Member

Forklift Train the Trainer – CLASSROOM INSTRUCTION*

Prerequisite is to be An Experienced Forklift Operator

This class will provide participants with information, techniques, and skills to train others safely and effectively in their company on forklift equipment.

Course Content:

- Organization of the training session
- Steps to effective training
- Practical applications
- OSHA requirements per 29 CFR 1910.178
- New OSHA regulations and S.O.P.'s
- Provide sample tests, safety rules, and training and OSHA documentation checklist
- Presentation of driver training program
- Administer testing to individuals in the class.
- Certificates for train-the-trainer candidates and for forklift operators will be provided by MAEA
- Review paperwork for OSHA approval and provide written forklift policy

Mobile Elevating Work Platforms Train the Trainer (Formerly Aerial and Scissor Lifts Train the Trainer)

Effective June 2020, there were new ANSI and OSHA standards that apply to Aerial Lifts and Scissors Lifts. Aerial Lifts and Scissors lifts are now classified as Mobile Elevating Work Platforms. This course will include all the updates to the Mobile Elevating Work Platforms (MEWP) standard. There are also new rules for owners, employers, supervisors, and operators. In many work situations, associates are required to perform work at elevated levels. Even though the elevated work being performed may vary greatly from one industry to another, how associates are lifted is generally the same. This course will provide the information to implement the new Mobile Elevating Work Platforms safety procedures in your workplace. The major causes of injury and fatalities are falls, electrocutions, and collapse or tip-over. Employers are required to implement safe work procedures and train associates on the safe and correct use of equipment.

Course Content:

- New ANSI standards relating to MEWP's
- Requirement for workplace assessment
- Developing a fall rescue plan
- Training certification procedures and record retention
- Personal all arresting systems – fall harnesses
- Accident prevention
- Inspection and maintenance of lifts
- Operator safety requirement
- Hazards associated with lift
- Personal protective equipment
- Ground personnel training
- Group exercises and case studies
- Final written exam

Active Shooter – Act of Violence Response

This training provides guidance to individuals in terms of enhancing awareness, assessment, and intervention skills necessary for responding to workplace violence. It is intended to enhance the ability to identify potential dangers and minimize risk to personal safety for all in a variety of settings. This training is available to be done on-site at your facility. “This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute’s® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 3 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Course Content:

- Describe and implement strategies to de-escalate the individual
- Identify and apply effective skills in communication
- Apply Run, Hide and Fight
- Identify exit strategies
- Utilize various techniques for cover and concealment
- Implement counter strategies and distraction techniques
- Identify and apply effective strategies to use objects and space to maintain safety

Reasonable Suspicion - Drug and Alcohol Awareness

This training provides an overview of the most popular types of drugs and paraphernalia, their methods of use, and their effects on the human body. This training is available to be done on-site at your facility.

"This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®." “HRCertification Institute’s® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 3 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

- Course Content:
Recognize the dangers associated with the abuse of narcotics, prescription drugs, synthetic/ designer drugs and alcohol
- Describe the processing method for preparing controlled substances for human ingestion
- Identify each of the following along with the paraphernalia used to introduce each drug into the human body: Opiates, Marijuana, PCP, Cocaine, Amphetamines, Meth Amphetamines, Ecstasy, and Alcohol
- How to assist individuals in accessing treatment

On-site Training and Professional Development Opportunities

Basic Financial Statements

Revenue or expense budgets and financial statements are primary tools by which an organization determines, measures, and reports its financial performance. Many managers in non-financial positions are familiar with budgets but less familiar with financial terminology, financial statements, and analyzing financial reports. This workshop will help you increase your understanding of finance and using financial tools to make better business decisions. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. “This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.” “HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI’s eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®.” “This program has been approved for 6 Business recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®).”

Course Content:

- Balance Sheet
- Income Statement
- Cash Flow Statement
- Liquidity/Profitability/Efficiency/Market Ratios

Basic Purchasing Techniques

How do you directly contribute to your company's bottom line and profitability? The answer is through effective purchasing techniques. This course will review the overall purchasing function, steps to create an effective purchasing program, and how to create cost savings. In our current business environment of holding customer pricing and always searching for cost reduction, this course is a must!

Course Content:

- Purchasing techniques
- Strategic sourcing
- An effective purchasing program

Control of Hazardous Energy – Lockout/Tagout (LOTO) Train the Trainer

This comprehensive program is geared toward anyone with responsibilities related to developing, implementing, training, and enforcing the Control of Hazardous Energy (Lockout/Tagout) standard within the workplace. This course is delivered on the client's site. Participants will explore OSHA's Control of Hazardous Energy standard (29CFR 1910.147, Subpart J) through various means and teaching methods.

Course Content:

- Identify purpose and application of the Control of Hazardous Energy standard
- Define program designations and responsibilities
- Identify main failure that leads to lockout/tagout related injuries
- Identify key components of and develop a company facility specific LOTO program
- Develop machine specific LOTO procedures
- Implement a periodic inspection program
- Identify teaching strategies to enhance the effectiveness and retention related to training adults.

Crane and Rigging Safety Train the Trainer

This course will focus on the training required for General Industry crane operators and maintenance personnel. Specifically, the 29 CFR 1910 General Industry crane standards requires employers to provide work area specific training to designated crane users and maintenance personnel on the operations, daily inspections and testing, and safe hoisting practices. It is considered a best practice to have a written program in place to detail the inspection, maintenance, and training requirements for your facility.

Course Content:

- Written program sample
- General overview of the crane standard 29 CFR 1910.179
- Procedures for inspection and testing
- Safe rigging practices
- Types of lifting hardware and inspection
- Elements of a crane safety training program
- Operator certification requirements
- Responsibilities for supervisors and managers
- Written final exam

Creating Effective Procedures and Work Instructions

Clear and effective procedures and work instructions are extremely important for all companies. The lack of work instructions can lead to mistakes, delays, quality issues and even injuries. High quality work instructions are likely to result in faster processes, quality improvements, faster and more efficient training, increased staff satisfaction and fewer disruptions. In this training we will look at how to systematically approach the development of work instructions. A portion of the training will involve looking at different methods of work instructions including using technology and other media for training. The end goal is to create an easily understood and trainable process that ensures a standardized method for completing a procedure.

Customer Service Excellence

Retaining customers in today's market has become increasingly challenging over the past few decades, yet creating customer loyalty is the number one key to company success. More and more companies are learning how the cost of acquiring a new customer is far greater than the cost of maintaining a relationship with a current customer. This course is designed to help your organization remain competitive and excel in customer satisfaction.

Course Content:

- Define customer service and your customers
- Trends in customer service
- Impressions
- Why customers stop coming back
- Tips to improve the way you are perceived
- On-line customer service tips
- Difficult customers
- Role playing exercises

Developing a Mentor or Buddy Program

Orientation and retention are all about making your associates feel at home. The use of a buddy system may accelerate the productivity of new hires and enhance job satisfaction making it easier for employers to retain individuals. By buddying up with a seasoned associate, new hires gain insight to inside information and receive the encouragement they need to get comfortable in a new workplace. A buddy program provides a one-point access to operationally necessary information with the goal being for the new associate to get acclimated to the organization quicker, become more productive sooner, and keep talent within the organization. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. "This program is valid for 3 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®." "HRCertification Institute's® (www.HRCI.org) official seal confirms that MAEA meets the criteria for pre-approved recertification credit(s) for any of HRCI's eight credentials, including SPHR® and PHR®." "This program has been approved for 3 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®)."

Course Content:

- The difference between a buddy program, a coaching program, and a mentoring program
- The outline of a buddy program
- The role and responsibility of the buddy
- How to select and pair buddies
- How to set expectations for the new hire, the buddy and the leader
- Requirements for check-in's, follow-up, and time requirements

Designing Performance Management Systems

This training will provide participants with a basic understanding of the purpose of performance management systems, as well as what components should be measured. Participants will also learn the basics of providing accurate and constructive feedback to employees, as well as how to help employees to plan for their own professional growth within the organization. MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. "This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®." "This program has been approved for 6 HR recertification credit hours toward aPHR™, aPHRi™, PHR®,PHRca®, SPHR®, GPHR®, PHRi™ and SPHRi™ recertification through HR Certification Institute® (HRCI®)."

Course Content:

- Understanding a performance management system
- Determine what factors should be measured and why
- Define how to measure the factors that have been selected

Fostering a Culture of Coaching

Many of us share the same experience of playing on a youth sports team as children and young adults. Through a trusting relationship, our coaches not only assisted us in improving our athletic performance, but also helped to shape our resilience, character, self-confidence, and self-esteem at an early age. But why stop when we are young? Couldn't we also benefit from coaching as a working adult? During this day long course, we will explore how empowering managers, supervisors and team leads to coach associates can help drastically improve their employees' performance in the workplace as well as build a culture of coaching. With employers dealing with retention issues, coaching can be a major step in helping to develop and retain valuable associates.

MAEA is recognized by SHRM to offer Professional Development Credits (PDCs) for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®. "This program is valid for 6 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®."

Goal Setting and Achievement Thinking

What is the recipe for success? Why do some people become widely successful, and others struggle? It has been documented many times that people with success focus on two things (besides a ton of hard work)...setting goals and truly thinking they can achieve them! Instead of leaving things to chance, setting goals, developing a plan to achieve them and developing positive thinking puts the power back in your hands..

Establishing real goals, setting up a plan and implementing it efficiently, provides a clear path to achieving goals. Think it and you can achieve it!

Course Content:

- Reasons for setting goals
- Effective goal setting
- Obstacles to goals
- SMART goals
- Prioritizing based on importance
- Motivation and goal setting
- Visualization for success
- Positive vs negative thoughts

Internal Auditing (2 Day Workshop)

This program will provide effective instruction in and practical application of the techniques for conducting process-based audits of quality management systems designed to meet the requirements of various standards, e.g., ISO9001-2000, IOS 13485-2003, AS9100. Participants will also learn how to audit for process and system effectiveness.

Course Content:

- * The process approach to quality system management
- * The purpose of quality systems audits, audit terminology, audit ethics
- * The difference between internal audits, second and third party (e.g., registrar) audits
- * The management role of the internal auditor and how that translates into action
- * The collaborative nature of auditing and the need to involve the auditee's manager

Using one of their own company processes, participants will learn:

- * How to review, summarize and “flowchart” a process
- * How to identify and determine the nature and amount of objective evidence
- * How to conduct a process-oriented audit (audit trails)
- * How to audit for process effectiveness
- * How to use the audit to add value to the process and the organization
- * How to prepare audit checklists
- * How to phrase questions and inquiries to gain the maximum amount of information
- * How to collect and record audit evidence
- * How to eliminate fear and suspicion of the audit process
- * How to make determinations of noncompliance and ineffectiveness
- * How to differentiate between minor and major non-conformances
- * How to write an audit report so the facts are never in question
- * How to prepare and verify corrective and preventive action requests

Participants will plan and conduct an internal audit of one of their organization’s macro level processes using one of the audit trails identified in Day One. They will document their audit details, report, and make recommendations which include applicable corrective/preventive action requests. Important: The audits conducted during the workshop are real audits and may be used to fulfill part of your system auditing obligation.

Hazwoper 8 Hour Operations Annual Refresher - OSHA 1910.120(q)(6)(ii) First Responder Operations Level

First responders at the operations level are individuals who respond to the releases or potential threats of releases as part of the initial response to the site for the purpose of protecting nearby persons, property, or the environment from the effects of the release. They are trained to respond in a defensive fashion without actually trying to stop the release. Their function is to contain the release from a safe distance, keep it from spreading, and prevent exposures. First responders at the operational level shall have received at least eight hours of training or have had sufficient experience to objectively demonstrate competency in the following areas in addition to those listed for the aware level.

*Dates, locations, and pricing are subject to change. Notifications will be given to participants before the class begins.

Course Content:

- Knowledge of the basic hazard and risk assessment techniques
- Know how to select and use proper personal protective equipment provided to the first responder operational level.
- An understanding of basic hazardous materials terms
- Know how to perform basic control, containment and/or confinement operations within the capabilities of the resources and personal protective equipment available to the unit.
- Know how to implement basic decontamination procedures.
- An understanding of the relevant standard operating procedures and termination procedures

Kaizen

What is Kaizen? How can we benefit from Kaizen? How do we get started using Kaizen principles? Kaizen is a system of continuous improvement in quality, technology, processes, company culture, productivity, safety, and leadership. This class will explore the concepts of Kaizen and help organizations plan for Kaizen activities. Areas of focus include: quality, automation, suggestion systems, just-in-time delivery, Kanban, 6S, additional related topics

Value Stream Mapping with Applications and Case Studies

This course provides participants with a visual tool that graphically identifies every process in a product's flow, giving visibility to both the value-adding steps as well as the non-value-adding steps. Value Stream Mapping is an important tool used as part of Lean Manufacturing efforts to define Waste (non-value-added activities) within any process and provides the basis for a Lean implementation road map. It creates a vision of the future by uncovering wastes and opportunities to create flow and make it visible to all.

Course Content:

- An introduction to VSM
- Definition of value stream mapping
- Current state map
- Lean value stream
- How to generate a future state map
- Applications and case studies to create a value stream map

“In today’s ever-changing marketplace, the importance of job training has never been greater. Workforce training is an indispensable way to keep your organization competitive. The bottom line of any business is financial growth. If one could do it alone, there would be no need for a workforce, and every workforce must be trained. The better the training, the better your company’s growth. By giving them the training they need to maximize their skills, they will be able to fulfill those hard to reach goals that only the most talented and dedicated associates can. MAEA provides you a solution to your workforce training needs by offering over 100 training programs to be delivered to you publicly, in house, pre-recorded, virtual, and customized if necessary.”

Darlene J. Robbins
President, MAEA

“We enjoy identifying talent and promoting within our organization. The NEPA Manufacturers and Employers Association has become a key business partner to develop leadership skills with our team leads, supervisors and managers. Providing training on-site and scheduling for off-shifts has been very well received and allows for minimal schedule and business disruptions. Our team is grateful for training from a manufacturing perspective and enjoys the engaging, interactive role-play experiences in the class which are on point and applicable to our real-life work environment (i.e., not an office setting). The instructors are engaging and have a high level of credibility with our team.”
